

WAVES

A grief education programme for adults bereaved by suicide

Are you bereaved by suicide?

If you have been affected by the suicide of someone you know and are 17 years or older, you might be interested in joining a 'WAVES' grief education group.

Each group will have 6-8 members who will participate in a programme facilitated by trained health professionals and educators. There is one group session each week, over eight weeks, where members are able to:

- share their thoughts and feelings about what's happened
- discuss the nature of suicide and grief from losing someone to suicide.
- gain information and ideas about how to care for themselves and others, including children and young people, after a suicide

The WAVES programme is free, but participants will be asked if they can contribute a koha or donation towards the programme.

How to register for a group:

Looking for information about suicide prevention?

It can be distressing if you, or someone you care about, has thoughts of suicide.
If you or someone you know is in immediate danger call 111 and ask for the police.

If there is no immediate danger, take a look at some of the suicide prevention help and resources available to you: www.mdhb.govt.nz/suicide-prevention.

Because grief happens and support matters...
